ABOUT THE FORUM

FORUM VISION

Integrate to Innovate

The Integrate to Innovate Education Forum is an international education event initiated by Fazheng Group with the support of China Education Association for International Exchange (CEAIE) and the Ministry of Education's National Center for School Curriculum and Textbook Development. It has been held annually since 2016. Adhering to the concept of innovation, global focus and joint development, the Forum is committed to strengthening the connection between professionals across all fields and promoting exchanges and cooperation in international education.

FORUM REVIEW

Since 2016, the 1st to 4th sessions of Integrate to Innovate International Education Forum were held in Beijing, Chengdu and Dalian respectively. Throughout the years, the Forum has grown steadily, and established itself as an inclusive platform for cross-border communication and collaboration with its well-structured sessions of keynote speeches, panel discussions, event launches, report release, education exhibition and school visits. On the first four sessions, over 200 guest speakers and 3,000 professionals in education from 20 countries gathered to exchange their views on the future of international education. The Blue Book Series of China's International Schools released on the Forum provide authoritative interpretation on the hot topics of international schools of the year offering first-hand data and comprehensive information for professionals and researchers in the domain.

The Forum for World Education (FWE) is a non-profit world organization with its headquarters in Boston, Massachusetts USA and with operations in major cities throughout the world. Its mission is “to advance education in answer to the skills and knowledge requirements of current and future global society, its economic growth, societal progress and sustainability.” FWE is apolitical, operating with neutrality while serving as an activator for change, providing a unique platform for elevating the dialogue and cooperation of business leaders with policy makers and researchers in transforming education for the benefit of the individual and society.

British Chamber of Commerce in China want to create the best possible environment for British business in China. As one of the largest Beijing-based international business organisations, we assist our members through a diverse range of events and industry specific forums in order to create stronger business links. We also aim to create and promote a louder voice for the business community in China on a governmental level by communicating issues that businesses face to governmental organizations.
